ZILCYCLER GREEN ARMY

What is the Zilcycler Green Army?

Green Army is a six-month programme for people to participate in recycling and ensure a sustainable environment.

Green Army projects include securing recycling partnerships with corporate organisations and institutions, diverting used plastics destined for landfills to Zilcycler recycling hub, ensuring a sustainable environment.

How does it work?

The programme provides opportunities for people to gain training and experience in recycling and circular economy.

A Green Army member will be deployed to corporate organizations and institutions to secure partnership deals that will allow Zilcycler take charge of their recyclables.

A Green Army member will also monitor used plastics that may end up in landfills and divert such plastics to the Zilcycler hub.

A Green Army member will also secure agreements with scavengers for the supply of used plastics to Zilcycler.

Who is involved?

The Green Army is for all individual irrespective of age, gender, or employment status. Everyone should get involved in the Green Army because:

1. You will be paid allowance.
2. You will gain practical recycling skills and training.
3. You will help deliver real benefits for the environment.
4. You are considered an ad hoc staff of Zilcycler with full time job opportunity at the end of the programme
5. You qualify for Zilcycler swags and community outreach programmes hosted by Zilcycler.
